

A point-of-sale system built for borrowers and lenders alike

Deliver a modern mortgage experience from application to closing

With the Origence point-of-sale system, consumers can quickly apply for a mortgage through the device of their choice, communicate in real-time, stay up-to-date on the status of their loan, and receive “gentle reminders” when outstanding tasks need to be completed. No matter which stage of the lending process consumers are in, they’ll always stay connected from beginning to end.

For lending teams, the Origence sales portal is the easy way to leverage automation to quickly offer relevant products, quotes and pricing. With co-piloting, your lending team can help consumers get their loan across the finish line.

CONSUMER PORTAL

End-to-end system that lets consumers shop, apply, and complete their financing online.

SALES PORTAL

Fully-integrated sales portal that lets lending teams collaborate, build financing packages, monitor status, and set up loans for success.

Explore the Origence POS, and see how we bring automation, communication and user experience together for next-generation mortgage lending success.

Mortgage POS Features

- > Responsive design to support desktop and mobile experiences
- > Autonomous mortgage research and shopping experience
- > Self-guided quick quote, pricing, eligibility, and application pre-fill with pre-approvals (including Day 1 Certainty)
- > Enhanced post-application experience to support stipulation and document management, including ability to upload documents, review disclosures and e-sign
- > Dynamic application experience to support multiple loan types
- > External product pricing engine (PPE) such as Optimal Blue
- > Generate conditions and required documents